Honored as the outstanding senior bandsman with the John Phillip Sousa Award was Evelyn (Junior) Hadley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Hadley of Canyon.

Vars Meets Astronaut

Astronaut Frank Borman expressed a keen interest in Canyon and said he has two friends who have lived here when Don Vars met the spaceman last week in Houston.

Vars, attending a state bankers convention in the Astro Hall, happened to see Borman standing alone in a hallway. He introduced himself to the Apollo 8 Moon Shot commander and told him he lives in Canyon.

"Canyon," he quoted the spaceman as having replied, "I've got to get back up to Canyon sometime. I graduated from West Point with Sandy Oliver and was in school with Phillip Harper."

Oliver is a member of a well known area family. Mrs. Oliver is the former Beth Kimbrough, daughter of Coach and Mrs. Frank Kimbrough.

Harper was with the ROTC unit at West Texas State University. Mrs. Harper was society editor for The Canyon News while her husband was serving in Vietnam.

To Shave Texas Ad Valorem Levy

State ad valorem tax has been cut 5 cents, according to an announcement by Mrs. Audrey Bruse, Randall County tax assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse said she has been told unofficially that the state ad valorem tax will be reduced this year for 47 cents to 42 cents.

This will make the overall county and state tax this year $1.64 per $100 valuation instead of $1.92 as it was last year.

Mrs. Bruse made the announcment at a regular meeting of Randall County commissioners court Monday.

Commissioners set the time for meeting of the county board of equalization at 2 o'clock the afternoon of May 26 in the commissioners court room. Members of commissioners court will sit as a board of equalization.

Mrs. Bruse requested a minimum amount for billing of taxes. She told the court that some accounts are so small that even when they are paid they do not justify expense incurred in mailing statements.

The court agreed to accept an apparent low bid of $1,028.89 by the Steck Company of supplies for the tax assessor-collector's office.

Jerry Kolander, Amarillo, president of the Potter-Randall County Citizens' Committee appeared before the court to ask financial support from Randall County.

The court agreed to participate in the amount of $3,000 providing the attorney general rules such a move legal.

Kolander pointed out that it was the PRCC which made a recent survey of law enforcement and how it may be improved in the bi-county area.

He said upcoming studies in the two-county area will include welfare responsibility, fire fighting and other items of interest to governing bodies.

Commissioners authorized Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen to hire additional secretarial help.

The court also voted to accept an apparent low bid of $1,784 from Amarillo Equipment Rental & Sales Corporation for four Bushhog mowers for Precinct 4. There were seven bids.

Decision on accepting a bid for a tractor for the precinct was deferred a week. There were also seven tractor bids.

New Seats At Stadium

Comfort will be the keynote of continuing plans to make the West Texas State football stadium one of the finest on a college campus.

Athletic Director Frank Kimbrough said today that bids will be asked on 1,057 additional chair seats to be ready when the Buffaloes open the 1969 season Sept. 20 against Northern Arizona.

This would bring to 3,429 the number of chair seats available in the 20,000-seat stadium. The new seats are expected to cost $18,500.

For the first time, chair seats will be installed in the west stadium, with 495 being placed in Section D above the crosswalk from row 21 to 35. All of these chairs will be within the 42-yard lines, Kimbrough said.

The other new chair seats will be installed in sections J and L of the east stadium where the other seats are located.

Season tickets with chair seats cost $20.00 and without

In 1962 he was named Educator of the Year by the Greater Memphis State, Inc., and last year was presented the Outstanding Citizen's Award by the Al Chymia Shrine Temple of Memphis. The National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame gave him its Americanism Award of 1966.

The worst enemy the black race has today is the college administrators who are acceding to unreasonable demands being pressed by black militants.

Take the demand for black courses, for instance.

They are supposed to make the schools "relevant," whatever that is supposed to mean.

Courses in Negro history are fine, provided real history is taught instead of instant history made up on the spur of the moment.

Dr. Richard Foster, superintendent of schools at Berkeley, California is proud of the fact that courses in ghetto economics are taught in the Berkeley High School.

I don't know what ghetto economics is but I would think some courses designed to lift the Negro out of the ghetto would be better.

I think there is a tendency on the part of some school people to simply let minority students get by in class just because they are minority and it's less trouble to let them get by.

I know last fall a Mexican boy was in Randall County jail for driving while intoxicated. He didn't know how to read and write in spite of the fact that he had finished elementary school. He couldn't even sign his name.

He had been subjected to one of the most vicious kinds of discrimination by teachers who thought they were being good to him. They gave him good grades but he was unable to do the work.

He told me that countless times doors to better jobs were slammed in his face because his teachers had been "good to him."

One well known Negro leader only last week made the observation that soul courses may sound good but they don't qualify a student to operate a computer.

We're living in a society of advanced technology and the better jobs are going to those who understand that technology or at least some special part of it.

Any group that expects to compete in that society had better bow its collective head over mathematics, science and other fields of learning which will give it earning power and status.

Society can do its share in the field of education by offering remedial training in any areas where an individual or group may be deficient.

If society does more, it is subtracting rather than adding to the well being of the recipient.

* * *

I understand that one of the major demands of black militants at some colleges is a "no flunk out system" for minorities which will usually include Mexicans, Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Now one of the big complaints with all Negro institutions has been a claim that a degree from those institutions has limited meaning.

If the no flunk out program for minorities is accepted and Negroes, Mexicans and Puerto Ricans are graduated regardless of scholastic ability, people with dark skins will indeed be marked by society.

Under such an idiotic system a dark skin would be enough to cast deep doubt over the ability of even the most brilliant dark skinned student or graduate.

In short, a diploma in the hands of a dark skinned graduate would mean almost nothing.

It is little wonder that we have a hard time getting people to run for local office. Such offices pay nothing and at best afford a questionable amount of prestige to the office holder.

In return for his community service, he often is repaid by having his business boycotted by some one who disagrees with him, telephoned chastisement at odd hours during the day and night, loss of friendships and other abuse.

Over 23 years of covering the deliberations of school board, equalization board and city commission I have often disagreed with the members but I can truthfully say that disagreement never once overshadowed my gratitude to those who have been willing to serve.

Parade Magazine, a supplement to Sunday sections of large daily newspapers across the country, blasted Senator Ralph W. Yarborough, Texas senior Senator, this week in a by-line story by Jack Anderson.

Parade terms the Senate code of ethics adopted last year weak and says Yarborough joined in the fight to weaken it.

Here is a direct quote from Parade:

"Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D., Tex.), who joined in the fight to weaken the code, also fought to legalize slush funds and hiring of relatives. Yarborough's son happened to be the highest paid relative on the Senate payroll. Yarborough collected a slush fund from labor unions at the same time that he had pushed pro-labor bills through his Senate labor subcommittee."

Yarborough will be at Bushland Saturday. If he has a press conference and I can attend, I'll ask him for comment on the Parade article.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The American social structure is in trouble.

The home is the foundation of society, and has been since the creation of mankind. When almost one marriage in three ends in divorce, and 80% of the couples who remain together are unhappy, it is not difficult to understand why our social structure is tottering: The foundation is crumbling.

It has always been the husband's responsiblity to make the living, and the wife's responsibility to make the living worthwhile. When a man will not try to make a living, it is not easy for a woman to make the home pleasant and agreeable. When the wife fails to make the living worthwhile, a man usually loses his enthusiasm for making the living.

If the wife brings in a pay check, it in no way relieves her husband of the responsibility of supporting the family--nor her of the responsibility of making a home.

Apparently, the majority of American parents are so busy fighting each other they have little time or energy left to devote to the proper rearing of their children.

Recently a respected columnist emphatically denied parents were responsible for current juvenile delinquency. If parents are not responsible for the behavior of their children, who is? Teachers? Ridiculous! Any first-grade teacher knows a pupil's moral code and emotional stability are well determined before he enters her classroom.

Since juvenile crime is increasing 11 times faster than the population, it is obvious that our snowball will soon reach avalanche proportions if a solution is not found.

Approximately 15% of American children under 18 have police records. Certainly, it is not logical to hold the parents of the 85% of the decent, law-abiding youngsters accountable for the conduct of the delinquents.

But in spite of the alarming rise in juvenile delinquency, it is not yet keeping pace with adult delinquency as indicated by the divorce rate.

For the year of 1968 there were 1959 couples married in Potter and Randall counties. There were 1250 suits filed for divorce; 818 divorces were granted.

Every divorce makes another crack in the foundation of our social structure. As a rule, the children involved are deprived of both parents. If they are awarded to the mother, she usually has to go out and work to support them so they see very little of her. If she is not gainfully employed she is probably so lonely, frustrated, and unhappy that she is of little value to her lonely, frustrated, unhappy children.

If parents are so lacking in self discipline that they cannot preserve the sanctity of the home, their marriage vows, or the welfare of their helpless little ones, what can they teach their children about the eternal verities?

We are proud of our ancestors; at tremendous sacrifices, they gave us a great heritage. At the rate we are going, will our posterity have any cause to be proud of us?

Divorce, like drunkenness, is larely a disease of the poor and ignorant, but it is rapidly increasing among the middle-class majority. And our children will probably create the same kind of homes they grow up in. Children with divorced parents are twice as likely to have broken homes than are other children.

For the sake of our children, our self respect, and our nation can we not exercise sufficient wisdom and self restraint to keep our homes together--peaceably? Either we preserve the foundation, or the whole structure will fall.

School Shops Article By C. Newberry

Clifton (Hank) Newberry is a contributor to "School Shop Magazine" for February.

A graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State University, Newberry is an industrial plastics instructor and division head of industrial arts, home economics, auto mechanics and vocational agriculture at Buckeye Union High School in Buckeye, Arizona. He is also state advisor for Arizona Student Industrial Arts Clubs.

The article by Newberry is entitled "Pneumatic Clamping of Laminated Bows" and he was joined by another industrial arts instructor in authoring the article.

Newberry's son, James, a freshman at Buckeye Union High School, appears in some of the pictures used with the article. Newberry also recently developed a handbook for the Arizona State Industrial Arts Club which outlines activities and proceedings for industrial arts clubs on the state level.

He is married to the former Doris Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Worth Jennings of Canyon.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it--and so do its readers.

JAMES NEWBERRY AND his father, Clifton (Hank) Newberry, of Buckeye Union High School, Arizona are pictured as the father is a contributor to the February "School Shop Magazine". James, at the age of 8, was involved with his father in developing pneumatic clamping of laminated bows while the family resided in Plainview.

Tanglewood News

BY GAY HENDRIX

Natalie and Lee Russell hosted the Amarillo College athletic banquet at the Clubhouse last week.

Outstanding athletes in basketball, tennis, baseball and golf were present; among them was Russell Bedell, who is a member of the varsity basketball team.

The John Curries loaned out their little 6-foot sailboat, which was floated in the swimming pool and filled with guilted golf clubs, baseball bats, basketballs and tennis rackets to carry out the sports theme. The sail carried the Badger emblem.

Then Natalie promptly took off for a meeting of the Texas Junior College Core Curriculum Committee in Austin, leaving Lee to host an outdoors education clinic on Saturday.

Eighty-eight physical education teachers got together at the Russells' home to practice canoeing, bait casting, and air riflery in preparation for the possibility that these sports may be introduced into the public school physical education classes.

Bee loved every minute of it --all three sports happen to be among his favorites- and the whole group migrated to the clubhouse for lunch. The only mishap was when one teacher broke one of the most important rules of canoeing, he stood up in the back of the canoe and it flipped over and sent him splashing into the lake.

Two Lake Tanglewood teenagers are in Natalie's physical education classes at the college this semester. Jerry Gilbert is in bowling class, and Steve Woodall has taken up golf so he can really enjoy our new course this summer.

Jean and Buddy Owens finally have their new home under way. Marvin Standefer started on the foundation this week. Jean is the regional director for Con-Stan Industries, and since winning this home for very high sales volume, she has been busy with house plans and interviews.

Last week Lee Trent, senior Vice President of Con-Stan Industries, came to Amarillo to check Jean's plans and site and talk with reporter Paul Roberts of KGNC about Jean's work. While we are all interested and proud of Jean, I must say, chatting with Lee Trent, the original Lone Ranger of television, made the occasion rather special! Lee Trent was all praise for Jean! But winning awards isn't exactly a new experience for her. She's already walked off with a Ford Galaxie and two Lincoln Continentals. But a home! That's the grandest of all and the highest award the company offers.

Tom McCarty's fraternity at WTSU, Phi Delta Theta, has been enjoying the lake this spring. Two weeks ago the McCarty lot was crowded with kids for a rush party. Last Sunday, about 50 fraternity brothers and dates sunned and water skied.

If you didn't see Allen Bedell's psychedelic canoe out on the lake last weekend (rigged with a sail!) perhaps you heard it--it's just that loud. Somewhere in between school and washing dishes at the club, Allen found time to paint the old family canoe. (Lister may not admit this, but he helped).

John and Virginia Fick have recently bought the lot next to Bob Sims. John is the branch manager for McKesson Chemical Company and Virginia is in the accounting department of Mesa Petroleum Company. The Ficks love water and water sports and have lived in Dallas, Shreveport and Hot Springs, which are all surrounded by lakes. They found several months in Odessa particularly trying, and are now very pleased to be located in Amarillo and especially at Lake Tanglewood. They hope to have a home started within the next year.

Sunday Buffets at the clubhouse are "on" again. Dick Tinkham has Al Fuqua, formerly a country club chef, coming down Sundays just to prepare the buffet.

Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Read, was presented with his Eagle rank, the highest rank that can be earned in boy scouting, by Meredith Warren, past scoutmaster. He charged Mark to undertake his citizenship with a solemn dedication.

Grant For Workshop To WTSU

West Texas State University was recently accepted for a $15,600 grant from the National Science Foundation supporting a "Workshop in Implementation of Elementary School Science and Mathematics Curricula."

The workshop is under the direction of Dr. H. L. Cook, head of the WTSU mathematics department.

The workshop, to be held June 2-20, will use the Minnemast Program, an innovated approach to math and science teaching in the elementary grades. The Minnemast Program was developed by Paul Rosenbloom of the University of Minnesota, and refined by psychologists and learning theorists.

PESO will assist in conducting the workshop which will consist of at least 24 participants from elementary schools in the Panhandle area, Cook said.

You Need Bells when You Pasture
DEKALB SUDAX BRAND
Here's a crop which can hide a herd of cows in a hurry! The extra bred-in hybrid vigor in DeKalb Sudax Brand Hybrids shows up in faster growth. It means you can have grazing sooner. Cattle are "wild" about Sudax Brand—eat not only the tender leaves, but the larger stems as well. Equally remarkable is the ability of Sudax Brand Hybrids to recover quickly. With a minimum of moisture and a few days rest, they can be ready with another crop for grazing or cutting. Insist on DeKalb Sudax Brand Hybrids.
"DEKALB" and "SUDAX" are Registered Brand Names. "SX" Numbers are Variety Designations.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT STARTING THERE.

After college, start your business career where the challenges come sooner. Where you'll get more out of your first job experience. Choose Army Officer Candidate School. The minute the Army pins bars on your shoulders, you take command. You guide. You counsel. You lead. You make decisions. You take on important responsibilities. You would have to work for years in a civilian job before you'd get anywhere near this kind of success-building experience. No wonder OCS-trained Army Officers make it big in the Army and in business. At a younger age. In more responsible jobs. With a higher salary.

YOUR FUTURE, YOUR DECISION . . . . CHOOSE ARMY OCS.

Summer Music Workshops Set In Series At WTSU

Music workshops for the summer at West Texas State University will open June 2-6 with a piano workshop to be conducted by Howard Waltz, professor of music at the University of Colorado, as guest clinician.

The piano workshop, which begins a series of summer workshops, will be from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. daily with one semester hour of credit available to those desiring. The workshop will include both technique, theory, and instrumental aspects of piano music.

Waltz is a pianist, teacher and composer. He will discuss and demonstrate problems and resources of piano instruction at all levels. He received his B.M. degree from DePauw University and the MM from the University of Wisconsin. He has studied privately with Robert Casadesus, Jean Battala and Rosina Lhevinne. He is in constant demand as a judge for student Music Teachers National Association auditions and is recognized for his incidental music of "Much Ado About Nothing", "King Lear", "The Scarlet Letter", and "Fast and Hostile Were The Plains".

A workshop fee of $15 will be charged for those attending the workshop, but not desiring to enroll for college credit. Required fees for those registering for credit are affected by the total number of hours for which the individual enrolls and whether the individual is a Texas resident or from out-of-state.

CJHS Librarian's Paper Requested

Canyon Junior High School librarian Mrs. Hazel Sunderman has received a request from the Education Research Information Center for permission to reproduce on microfilm a paper which she presented recently at the International Reading Association Conference in Kansas City, Missouri.

The ERIC Clearinghouse on Reading has developed a joint project with the International Reading Association in cooperation with the US Office of Education to locate, organize and disseminate research and other resource materials in the field of reading and related fields of learning.

Mrs. Sunderman presented her paper to the librarians' section, jointly sponsored by the IRA and the American Library Association, In the paper, she stressed the need to build a school climate that would foster lifetime readers and suggested techniques that have been tried and proven successful in developing cooperation between the librarian and the secondary school teacher.

Specific examples taken from the Canyon Junior High School program were used in her paper. Emphasis was placed on the philosophy "Accept the Negative; Accentuate the Positive". Not to accept the negative would be an unrealistic approach, but Mrs. Sunderman thinks that the librarian is in a unique position to initiate a positive program.

Mrs. Sunderman spent one day as the guest of the George Calab Bingham Junior High, a school that uses team teaching, flexible modular scheduling and unstructured time to be used in the Resource Center, which houses multimedia materials and equipment.

Over 15,000 teachers, administrators, reading specialists and librarians attended the conference and heard addresses by the leaders in fields of reading and library science.

Leon Gheers Pledge Marriage In Olton

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gheer are at home at 400 Holman Lane, Canyon, following their marriage May 2 at Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Olton, Texas.

The bride, formerly Miss Essie Dianna Sluder, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Sluder of Olton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. A. L. Gheer and the late Mr. Gheer of Ava, Missouri.

Rev. E. M. Jennings officiated at the exchange of double ring marriage vows. Tall tapers on the altar table were flanked with two candleabrum with tapers, greenery and white bows with accenting baskets of white gladioli for the ceremony.

Mrs. Owen Norfleet sang "I Love Thee" preceding the ceremony and closed with "The Lord's Prayer" after the rites. Harold Dean Carson played the organ which was an old reed-style organ, belonging to the bride's parents.

Mrs. O. H. Finch, Jr. of Dalhart, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a streetlength dress of orchid crystalline fashioned similar to the bridal gown with a Dior bow of matching fabric and net. She carried a bouquet of orchid mums.

O. H. Finch, Jr. of Dalhart was best man. Ushering were Tom Sluder, Jr., brother of the bride, and Billy McAlister of Olton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a streetlength dress of white crepe de chine which was fashioned by the bride with a high neckline, long sleeves and a full loose pleated skirt. Her veil of white lace was held to a crown of lace and she carried a nosegay of white rosebuds on a white Bible. For something borrowed and old she carried a silk handerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother. She also had a blue garter, a sixpence in her shoe and the Bible, which she carried, was new.

The home of the bride's parents was the setting for the wedding reception where the table was laid with a white floor-length cloth of net over white satin. Crystal candleholders with orchid candles decorated the table and the centerpiece was the bride's bouquet and the bouquet of her matron of honor. Orchid satin ribbon streamers decorated the table which held orchid punch and frosted wedding cake decorated with wedding bells and orchid bows. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

For a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the bride changed to a pink knit dress with matching lace coat and black patent accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

A graduate of Olton High School, the bride attended West Texas State University in Canyon and is employed as secretary to Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State University.
